

Just stumbled upon your website, went to the dready from 84 until the early nineties constantly, then just noo and again (had met the wife of course) and miss it, haven't been to the new one yet as i don't get oot as much now. good to read the message from mr wark who i never knew personally then but he is my big mucker now, although i was pally with purdey and jar from blackburn. as with him had some memorable nights that i can't remember (always the best) and once went flying out the emergency exit after being slapped by hazel cowie and landed arse down on a chair which then went tits up landing me on my pan. characters rembered were double decks, brian the norseman (still stootin aboot bathgate talkin shite) and was it eddie stumps or somethin, also anyone remember the guy who danced with a whip ?another memory was brian "squeek" wilson and john "" russell dressed up in drag and my blind mate deciding he fancied them. keep up the good work
